IN MEMORIAM

DONALD JOSEPH CAMERON
September 14, 1936—August 3, 1954

James S. Collins

FROM OUR PRINCIPAL

To the Class of 1955:

Congratulations on your achievements and best wishes for the years that lie ahead. May they be happy and prosperous with satisfying experiences through your search for contentment in your various endeavors, and may you find your proper places in service to mankind.

This notable book with all of its familiar faces and scenes constitutes a connecting link between your past and your future—that time which belongs to all things that grow. As your footsteps lead you to this vast period, it is our hope that your future may be secure.

James S. Collins
Principal

John K. Young

TO OUR DEDICATEE

When a man is a living example of the spiritual purposefulness, the physical courage, and the mental perseverance he expects of his students under stress, he is truly a teacher per se. Such a man is Mr. John K. Young. To him we affectionately dedicate The Manet for 1955.

FOOTBALL

Brawn and Brain

As the season began it looked as though it was going to be a lean year with only two veterans, co-captains Vin Penzo and Bernie Creedon, returning.

Opening with a strong Hingham team, the inexperienced Raiders fought to a 13-13 tie. The Raiders then romped over Dedham 27-6. The following week North traveled to Winchester with high spirits, but were overwhelmed 24 to 7 in their attempt to upset the North Shore powerhouse. The next week New Bedford tipped North 13 to 6 on a wet away field. Trying to rebound, the Red Raiders battled rival Milton to a muddy 7-7 tie. The following week the Raiders were handcuffed by a visiting Natick team 40-14.

The Raiders finally bounced back beating Braintree 7-0. Then came the time for the big game.

North, without the services of Quarterback Paul Coletta, who had been injured at Braintree, was up for the game with its arch-rivals and battled the most powerful Quincy team in recent years to a standstill, but Quincy's reserve strength showed itself and they downed the Raiders 18-0. However, Coach Donahue held his head high, for he was the coach of "a team that did not give up when the chips were down." Two of the outstanding Raiders, Fullback Vin Penzo and Center Ed Trudeau, were selected for the South Shore All-Scholastic Team.

With capable linemen in Jack Kelly, Pat Harding, Jim Fallon, and Ed Trudeau and hard-driving backs in Vin Penzo, Bernie Creedon, Jim Jones, Paul Coletta, and Jack Crowley, this year's team was a credit to the school and the community in that its spirit never faltered.

BASKETBALL

Roll Around the Rim

This year's team was built with an eye to the future in that the nucleus was built around four juniors and a sophomore with a great deal of help being supplied by Coach Mullarkey's dependable seniors.

Being a young inexperienced team, the Raiders bowed to Natick in their first game 51-39. Pressing Thayer, North stymied them and turned up the winner 74-65, with Larry Campbell, Doug Grutchfield, and Jack Crowley showing their abilities. Then the Raiders met some stumbling blocks in losing to Arlington 40-39 and bowing to an agile Quincy team 65-40.

Helped by the rebounding of Larry Campbell and the fine ball handling of Don Stevenson and Wally Rockwell, North rallied to beat their next three opponents. The Raiders knocked off Archbishop Williams 63-55, Weymouth 73-40, and Braintree 53-42. By doing this they kept their tourney hopes alive and vowed to avenge their earlier losses. With help from Bob Densmore, Bernie Creedon, Paul Coletta, Al Adams, Bruce Fitzpatrick, and Jimmy Jones, North produced a team playing a brand of basketball that upheld the standards of our name in High School Basketball circles.

"Play Ball!"

No Breeze—batters allowed on this bat—happy ball club! The outfielders' union goes on strike when these boys refuse to strike out! Whether at home or away, they frustrate enemy pitchers with bats that break the sound barrier on every swing, and send that round white object many miles at many knots. They're a thrill to watch and a credit to the school as a whole.

LIBRARY STAFF

Bookworms' Bedlam

All work and no play is fiction concerning our junior librarians. The enjoyment provided at the Mothers' Tea was not all derived from books (cookbooks perhaps). Dewey decimal daze, fathoms of files for homework help, popular magazines to "study"—all these services are familiar to any North student.

It keeps them busy.

A short time out.

The Board of Review.

LIBRARY BOOK RECOMMENDATION COMMITTEE

Lovers of Literature

To recommend or not to recommend is the question facing the students in a round table discussion in the library. The verdict is to recommend, we hope!

"And I tell you . . ."

STUDENT COUNCIL

Good Government

With Captain Jimmy Jones at the helm, his hearty shipmates are steered straight on the way of democracy. Heated arguments among the student councilors do not mean there's mutiny in the air. Far from it, for they're only preparing their log of such policies as our school's traffic problems and book-cover sales.

A weighty problem.

TEACHERS' CAREER CLUB

Successors to the Incumbents

It costs no more to have the very best, so North has started to prep the new crop even before the Teachers' Colleges complete the job by touching the "born" teachers of tomorrow with the magic wand of educational practices.

The new look in teachers.

It'll be fun to go to school.

SENIOR RADIO CLUB

CLASS DAY COMMITTEE

Cheerful Combo

These four are responsible for this crazy mixed-up day when you cannot believe your eyes. But wait! Remember? It's Senior Class Day when every senior recaptures Nursery School days with teddybears, lollypops, rag dolls, and balloons, then reverts to full stature for the Manet assembly and a supper party, and finally so to bed tired but happy.

Down to business.

Give 'em a hand.

SENIOR CLASS DANCE COMMITTEE

"You're Kiddin'; They're Finished?"

Party time? No, it's time again for a committee to prepare for another of those dreamy dances. Music on wax, cokes, streamers, and slacks combine to make the perfect atmosphere. Decorations and food finished, so ends another evening of labor and laughter.

Taking advantage of the situation.

"... and they lived happily ever after."

PROM COMMITTEE

Bury That Hatchet!

Who has jetted us to this wonderland of delight? Our Prom Committee. Its hard work makes our dancing ecstatic among the blossoming cherry trees of an artistically transplanted Washington-on-the-Potomac. Let's bury the hatchet that would even threaten to cut down the cherished memory of this high light.

"Now, what's wrong here is . . ."

"Please! This is a serious matter!"

North's Stargazers.

Extra! Extra!

NORTH STAR STAFF

Out for the Big Story

Lookin' up from the handle—of the Big Dipper, that is—you see the North Star, biggest four-page scoop on "Who Done It!" These future cub reporters for the Ledger give us prevues and revues of what's doing at North. It's the special school newspaper that features sports and social activities. This is one star that you can see in the daytime.

From the amoeba to man.

BIOLOGY CLUB

Turtle Time

I'll never forget the huge turtle buried in the tank, and the green snake that scared the girls, and the marathons to the cafeteria for bread or lettuce for the mice. You learn big words, too, like organic substances, coniferous, and terrarium—that's a small woodland world in a glass bowl. Have you ever lain on your stomach in tall grass with a pencil and paper, waiting for a bird to come flying by? We really saw some bird life. That's just a worm's eye view of activities in the Biology Club.

A cheerful hello.

"You can't miss it."

RECEPTIONISTS

STUDENT LEADERS' CLUB

Push-up Party

Any Monday or Friday homeroom period the Leaders are missing—where? In the B.M. room, tumbling and teaching gym in general! No chance of crashing this party! Anybody for chin-ups?

Rembrandts all.

SKETCH CLUB

"Young" Master Painters

Take a bucket of paint, a shedding old paint-brush, and a piece of paper larger than a sheet, give them to the sketch club and you'll get an enchanting back drop for the Christmas or Thanksgiving assembly. Every year these embryo masters come through with scenery which always seems even better than last year's!

An extra practice session.

Strikettes.

BOWLING CLUB

Alley Cats

Howls re-echo Monday night at the Downs' Alleys. You don't need nine lives to get in on the high scores and high excitement, so drop in any time and watch the pins fly.

Deadeyes.

RIFLE CLUB

Pot Shots

The Army Rifle Ranges have nothing on us, for with one-hundred-per-cent sharpshooters at North the boys in the pits never have had to wave Maggie's drawers.

A friendly discussion.

It ain't fair—no boys allowed.

TRI-HI-Y

Women in Action

With tidal-wave force the agenda of the Tri Girls sweeps into happy completion: Red Feather projects, community services, and child-adoption responsibilities. But the girls let their hair down too! Ever sit in on one of their rollicking song fests?

ORTH QUINCY HIGH

COMMUNITY SPIRIT

People are always running into something new and different every day, they say, and I certainly found this to be true when I started working on our yearbook. I just shudder to think what The Manet would have looked like without John Hofferty, faculty advisor in name, but much more than that in reality, by far the hardest worker on the book; Mr. Bleiler, who gave over and above the call of duty, by giving us many excellent ideas besides his usual fine photographic work; and Mr. Moore, who kept us going between school and press. Experience, in the form of these three men, certainly was the best teacher.

The book's great money-making team, Burt Harris and Don Burke, co-business managers, and its design genius, Joe Whelan, join me in paying tribute to these men and also in thanking Miss Morrison and Miss Mullaney for their ready, willing, and efficient help, all the girls who typed out the copy in double-quick time, and everyone who worked on The Manet in any way.

Most of us of the Class of 1955 will hold on to our Manets until either they or we fall apart, and every now and then look back to remember what life was like in our senior year in North Quincy High School. What fun it will be at such times to recapture the fountain of youth!
